Course Description

This course is an introduction to the empirical testing of economic theories. Student Projects testing simple economic models. This course is designed to give students marketable skills in core econometric analysis, while providing a survey of topics in econometrics. A key structural feature of this class is designed to accomplish this: the weekly labs focus intensely on a relatively small number of important topics, and the final project focuses on applying these skills to a research project.

Course Objectives

This course emphasizes five Learning Objectives. The five specific Course Learning Objectives for ECON 2311c include: 1 Explain core methods in econometrics and identify correct procedures; 2 Discuss core econometric topics at a conceptual level; 3 Access data and use computer software to estimate econometric models; 4 Interpret econometric models estimated with computer software; 1 - 4 will mainly be assessed through weekly lab assignments.

Course Outline

Topic 1: Introduction to Econometrics

Topic 2: Linear Regression

Topic 3: Multiple Regression
 Topic 4: Inference for Multiple Regression
 Topic 5: Critical Evaluation of Econometric Models
 Topic 6: Panel Data Methods
 Topic 7: Instrumental Variables

Course Requirements and Grading

Summary of Course Grading:

ACTIVITIES	Points for Each	Total Possible Points
9 My EconLab Home Work Exercises	40,000	360,000
9 MyEconLab Quizzes	20,000	180,000
MIdTerm Exam		160,000
Final Exam		300,000
Bonus Points: 1,000 per each "bonus" activity
TERM TOTAL		1,000,000

Class Participation

Outside obligations, work, family, friends, life pile up and can compromise the focus on this course. Please make a commitment to stay in touch with the class assignments and reach out to the instructor at least weekly. Students should read the assigned material before class and be prepared to participate in discussions.

Weekly Quizzes and Homework Assignments

The Homework Assignments are designed to give you experience using computer software and managing data. In addition, hands on experience with the data will reinforce the statistical and econometric theory and methods and thus help to prepare you for the final research project. This is especially true given the research project is based upon the skills learned in the weekly lab assignments. These weekly assignments are due at 11:59p.m. Sunday evenings. A 15% penalty is imposed on late assignments.

Grading Scale:

Grade	Letter Grade	GPA
93-100	A	4.0
90-92	A-	3.7
87-89	B+	3.3
83-86	B	3.0
80-82	B-	2.7
77-79	C+	2.3
73-76	C	2.0
70-72	C-	1.7
67-69	D+	1.3

Grade	Letter Grade	GPA
63-66	D	1.0
60-62	D-	0.7
<60	F	0.0

Extra Credit is given in the form of “Bonus Points”

During the semester 1,000 bonus points will be given per event for participation in announced Campus Events. For award of bonus points the event must be discussed with instructor prior to event

Due Dates and Late Policy

You are expected to be conscientious about deadlines for assignment activities. Much thought and care has gone into the design of the assignments and their due dates. For the course to proceed as designed it is essential that these deadlines be observed.

Late assignments

Unless excused, a 15% penalty is imposed on late assignments.

Extension of Deadline for Cause i.e. Excusal Policy

Assignments are to be submitted on time, except in case of documented emergency, scheduling conflict, religious observances or participation in extra-curricular activities that enrich their experience, support their scholarly development, and benefit the university community. If you have a conflict, please inform me in writing ASAP before the event and the assignment deadline may be extended. If you can document an emergency that has prevented you from timely submission of these activities the deadline may be extended. Computer problems by themselves do not constitute a documentable emergency unless you can provide evidence, for example from the HuskyCT support team, that you made a diligent effort to complete the activity during its availability but were prevented by computer issues. Unless excused, a 10-point penalty is imposed on late assignments.

Student Responsibilities and Resources

As a member of the University of Connecticut student community, you are held to certain standards and academic policies. In addition, there are numerous resources available to help you succeed in your academic work. This section provides a brief overview to important standards, policies and resources.

Student Code

You are responsible for acting in accordance with the University of Connecticut's Student Code. Review and become familiar with these expectations. In particular, make sure you have read the section that applies to you on Academic Integrity:

- Academic Integrity in Undergraduate Education and Research
- Academic Integrity in Graduate Education and Research

Cheating and plagiarism are taken very seriously at the University of Connecticut. As a student, it is your responsibility to avoid plagiarism. If you need more information about the subject of plagiarism, use the following resources:

- Plagiarism: How to Recognize it and How to Avoid It
- University of Connecticut Libraries' Student Instruction (includes research, citing and writing resources)

Absence From Final Exam

Copyright

Copyrighted materials within the course are only for the use of students enrolled in the course for purposes associated with this course and may not be retained or further disseminated.

Netiquette and Communication

At all times, course communication with fellow students and the instructor are to be professional and courteous. It is expected that you proofread all your written communication, including discussion posts, assignment submissions, and mail messages. If you are new to online learning or need a netiquette refresher, please look at this guide titled, The Core Rules of Netiquette.

Adding or Dropping a Course

If you should decide to add or drop a course, there are official procedures to follow:

- Matriculated students should add or drop a course through the Student Administration System.
- Non-degree students should refer to Non-Degree Add/Drop Information located on the registrar's website.

You must officially drop a course to avoid receiving an "F" on your permanent transcript. Simply discontinuing class or informing the instructor you want to drop does not constitute an official drop of the course. For more information, refer to the:

- Undergraduate Catalog
- Graduate Catalog

Academic Calendar

The University's Academic Calendar contains important semester dates.

Academic Support Resources

Technology and Academic Help provides a guide to technical and academic assistance.

University Counseling & Mental Health Services

Students with Disabilities

Students needing special accommodations should work with the University's Center for Students with Disabilities \(CSD\). You may contact CSD by calling (860) 486-2020 or by emailing csd@uconn.edu. If your request for accommodation is approved, CSD will send an accommodation letter directly to your instructor(s) so that special arrangements can be made. (Note: Student requests for accommodation must be filed each semester.) The University Policy Statement.

Blackboard measures and evaluates accessibility using two sets of standards: the WCAG 2.0 standards issued by the World Wide Web Consortium (W3C) and Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act issued in the United States federal government." (Retrieved March 24, 2013 from Blackboard's website)

Policy against Discrimination, Harassment and Related Interpersonal Violence

The University is committed to maintaining an environment free of discrimination or discriminatory harassment directed toward any person or group within its community – students, employees, or visitors. Academic and professional excellence can flourish only when each member of our community is assured an atmosphere of mutual respect. All members of the University community are responsible for the maintenance of an academic and work environment in which people are free to learn and work without fear of discrimination or discriminatory harassment. In addition, inappropriate amorous relationships can undermine the University's mission when those in positions of authority abuse or appear to abuse their authority. To that end, and in accordance with federal and state law, the University prohibits discrimination and discriminatory harassment, as well as inappropriate amorous relationships, and such behavior will be met with appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal from the University. Additionally, to protect the campus community, all non-confidential University employees (including faculty) are required to report sexual assaults, intimate partner violence, and/or stalking involving a student that they witness or are told about to the Office of Institutional Equity. The University takes all reports with the utmost seriousness. Please be aware that while the information you provide will remain private, it will not be confidential and will be shared with University officials who can help.

Software Requirements and Technical Help

- Word processing software
- Adobe Acrobat Reader
- Internet access

This course is completely facilitated online using the learning management platform, HuskyCT. If you have difficulty accessing HuskyCT, students have access to the in person/live person support options available during regular business hours through HuskyTech. Students also have 24x7 Course Support including access to live chat, phone, and support documents.

Minimum Technical Skills

To be successful in this course, you will need the following technical skills:

- Use electronic mail with attachments.
- Save files in commonly used word processing program formats.
- Copy and paste text, graphics or hyperlinks.
- Work within two or more browser windows simultaneously.
- Open and access PDF files.

University students are expected to demonstrate competency in Computer Technology. Explore the Computer Technology Competencies page for more information.
